Experts reported a sharp increase in DDoS attacks on the Russian fuel and energy sector due to cold weather

The number of computer attacks on Russian organizations from the fuel and energy complex has increased threefold due to the seasonal cold weather, RED Security (a subsidiary of MTS, which deals with cybersecurity issues) told TASS. The Internet resources of Moscow organizations and enterprises of the Siberian Federal District, for example, from Krasnoyarsk and Irkutsk, were most often attacked. The company calculated the increase in attacks by comparing data for October with the average monthly figure for January - September 2024.

Belgorodenergo connected new charging stations for electric vehicles to the grid

Belgorodenergo's specialists provided electricity to four fast electric charging stations in Belgorod, Gubkin and Stary Oskol. Their total capacity was 1.2 MW. The stations allow charging electric vehicle batteries to 80% in 20-30 minutes. The company noted that the work was carried out as part of a federal project to create infrastructure for electric transport. The project has been underway for two years. It is expected that by 2030, the share of domestically produced electric vehicles in the total volume of vehicle production will reach at least 10%.
