

ELECTRIC POWER INDUSTRY NEWS

No right to fail

In the context of increasing tariffs, industrial consumers are asking to strengthen the assessment of the quality of electricity and establish requirements for voltage drops, which threaten losses for enterprises. In such cases, businesses are asking to reduce the cost of transmission fees by 20-80%. The Ministry of Energy considers the proposal to reduce the cost of services inappropriate, pointing to underfunding of the electric grid complex and current benefits, including for large consumers.
