

ELECTRIC POWER INDUSTRY NEWS

Energy should be economical

The authorities of the Russian Federation went along with some proposals of the head of Rosneft, the secretary of the presidential commission on the fuel and energy complex, Igor Sechin, to reduce electricity prices for industry. As Kommersant found out, payment for the reserve of unused power grids, which Rosneft proposed to completely abandon, can only be introduced in pilot regions.

Power engineers resist the bad weather that hit the 33rd region

On the night of 12-13 May, weather forecasters predicted a sharp deterioration in the weather: wind speed up to 20 m/s, heavy rainfall, and thunderstorms in some districts of the region. According to the available meteorological data, power engineers quickly organized a headquarters headed by the director of the Vladimirenergo branch, ensuring continuous interaction with the Ministry of Emergency Situations, authorities and local self-government.
