Rosseti and Skolkovo opened the application process for participation in the Energy Breakthrough accelerator

The 12th Energy Breakthrough innovation development competition, which is being held by the Rosseti Group and Skolkovo (VEB.RF Group), has started. In 2024, the largest regional grid companies and manufacturing partners joined the program, which will provide support to participants at the start of serial production of the proposed products. The purpose of the competition is to select innovative solutions based on Russian high-readiness technologies (TRL 5 and above) for use in the grid complex.
