The government doubles criteria for the TGO status starting in 2027

From 2027, to meet the primary criteria for a Territorial Grid Organization (TGO), owners of electric grid assets must possess substations with a combined rated capacity of at least 300 MVA and power lines with a total route length of at least 600 km. For 2025-2026, the thresholds were set at 150 MVA and 300 km, respectively. At the same time, special regimes remain in place for certain categories of grid organizations.
