A resolution regulating relations with participation of STGOs has been signed

The Government of the Russian Federation has signed a resolution "On Amendments to Certain Acts of the Government of the Russian Federation" on issues of regulating relations with participation of systemically important territorial grid organizations (STGOs).

The document was developed to improve the quality of customer service and centralize responsibility to them for the reliability of energy supply, as well as to form a uniform system of contractual relations in the provision of services for the transmission of electric energy.
