FAS calculated electricity tariffs for 2025. What will change and how much will we pay

The Federal Antimonopoly Service (FAS) calculated the “corridors” of electricity tariffs for the next year. Based on the developed maximum price levels, regional tariff authorities will set specific tariff values, the FAS press service commented. At the same time, differentiated tariffs are in effect in 73 regions based on electricity consumption volumes, and each range has its own tariff. Tariffs for the first consumption range (minimum) will be limited by the minimum and maximum levels determined by the FAS.

COMPANY NEWS

Head of Rosseti Centre's Group of Companies Igor Makovskiy held a meeting of the special operational Headquarters in the RDG camp

They discussed the operational situation in the region, priorities for activities in preparation for the heating season and key facilities requiring special attention, as well as the organization of camp life in the autumn-winter period. Some decisions concerned the critical infrastructure of the “gray zone”, where restoration work is possible only in cooperation with the Ministry of Defense.
