

ELECTRIC POWER INDUSTRY NEWS

The draft general scheme for placement of generating capacities until 2042 takes into account Rosatom's proposals for construction of 37 new nuclear power units

The state corporation notes that one of the features of the new general scheme is the fact that in addition to traditional power units with water-cooled reactors, it provides for the placement of innovative units of the next, 4th generation.

The implementation of the new general scheme for placement of generating capacities will support economic growth in the Urals, the Far East and Siberia. This is stated in the commentary of the Rosatom state corporation to the draft "General scheme for placement of electric power facilities until 2042" submitted for public discussion on Tuesday.
