The Ministry of Energy is preparing to introduce payment for maximum capacity of electric grids from 2025

The Ministry of Energy has posted a notice on the portal of draft regulatory and legal acts about work on the introduction of payment for maximum grid capacity upon new connection from 2025. The changes should affect only new customers over 670 kV. According to the text of the notice, now the grids must always provide consumers with maximum capacity, while their transmission services are paid for based on actual consumption.
